THE FORTY-THIRD REPORT
OF THE
DEPUTY KEEPER OF THE PUBLIC RECORDS
AND KEEPER OF THE STATE PAPERS IN IRELAND.

TO THE RIGHT HONOURABLE THE EARL OF ABERDEEN.

LORD LIEUTENANT-GENERAL AND GENERAL GOVERNOR OF IRELAND.

MAY IT PLEASE YOUR EXCELLENCY,

I respectfully beg to submit my Report, under the direction of the Right Honourable the Master of the Rolls, and pursuant to the 24th section of the Public Records (Ireland) Act, 1867, on the proceedings had during the year 1910 in connexion with the Public Records of Ireland.

1. The necessity of assisting the public, and the Revenue and Local Government Departments, in the task of ascertaining and checking the ages of Old Age Pensions Claimants continues to interfere to a very great extent with the legitimate work of this office. Nearly 60,000 searches were made during the year for the Inland Revenue, and about 23,000 directly for, or on behalf of, claimants for pensions. From the end of March the staff of Inland Revenue Officers engaged on this work here was withdrawn, and their duties were added to those already discharged by the officials of this office.

2. To meet these extra duties the Lords of the Treasury, at your Excellency's instance, have authorised the appointment of three additional Supplementary Clerks on the staff of this office, and the temporary employment of other clerks and workmen. These temporary hands will be gradually reduced as the necessity for relying on this office for evidence of age diminishes.

3. With your Excellency's approval and the sanction of the Lords of the Treasury, it is arranged that as the pressure of Old Age Pensions work diminishes the Supplementary Clerks now appointed to the staff shall be employed to relieve some of the Upper Division Clerks from routine duties hitherto devolving on them. In this way some of these officers will after a time be available for employment on the Calendaring of Records and other archival work, as contemplated at the erection of this office.

4. It should be observed that the staff originally fixed for this office was intended to be sufficient to secure not alone due attention to the current business of the office, but also to provide a distinct section, "whose sole duty it should be to compile Calendars to the Records." The initial task of collecting and arranging the Records from the various former repositories, the rapid growth in the public business of the office, and the extension of the advantages of this office to various classes of Records not included in the original Records Act, together with reductions more than once made in the numbers of the original staff, have made the realisation of a calendaring department, as originally designed, impossible. Such calendaring work as has been done here has for the most part been accomplished in intervals snatched from other duties. It may now, however, be hoped that after a time it will be possible definitely to allot two or three of the staff to this work, one of the primary objects in the establishment of the office.

5. The surviving volumes of the Civil Survey (33rd Report, par. 3) have been finally deposited here by the Commissioners of Woods and Forests, certified copies prepared in this office having been furnished to the Commissioners for use in the Land Revenue Office in Dublin. These volumes thus made available to the public through the enlightened generosity of the Commissioners and their Dublin representative, Mr. J. Harper Scaife, form a very valuable addition to the records of the Land Settlement under the Commonwealth. They are of great value for topography, the surveys of some counties being particularly rich in local boundary names now often obsolete. The set contains 79 barony volumes, and includes the counties of Donegal, Dublin, Kildare, Limerick, Londonderry, Meath, Tipperary, Tyrone, Waterford and Wexford. The books formerly were part of the Headfort Collection, a report on which is printed in the 2nd Volume of the Reports of the Irish Record Commissioners, pp. 21-4. This survey was undertaken for at least 15 other counties in Ireland. The remainder of the Survey, it is to be feared, perished in the fire which did so much injury to the Records of the Surveyor General's Office (in Essex Street) in 1711. That this was the case with the Kerry portion at least can hardly be doubted from the evidence afforded by the official copy of the Survey of Clanmaurice barony, presented to this office by Mr. W. T. J. Gun (38th Report, par. 2). This copy is signed by the then Deputy Surveyor General, about 1700, among whose records the original must at that time have been preserved.

6. Mr. Henry Seymour Guinness, who on more than one previous occasion presented records of some of the Dublin City Guilds, the scattered remnants of which he has endeavoured to trace and preserve, has again generously deposited in this office the complete Records of the Feltmakers' Guild of that city from their commencement in 1667. They include registers not only of the members of the guild, but also of their journeymen and apprentices.

7. His Grace the Duke of Leinster, through Lord Frederick Fitzgerald, has been so good as to present to this Office a book found among the muniments in his Estate Office, but which would appear properly to be a record of the Forfeiture Office. It was prepared towards the end of the 17th century, and is entitled "The Rent Roll of ye Estate called the Duke of Yorkes in Ireland as ye same is abstracted out of ye Leases and Contracts made by those who sett ye same."

8. Mr. Edward J. French has most kindly deposited a parcel of 13 deeds belonging to the sixteenth century, chiefly relating to the neighbourhood of Callan, Co. Kilkenny. A list of these deeds is given in the Appendix.

9. At a sale of manuscripts of the late Sir Thomas Phillipps some volumes were offered for sale which would seem to have been at one time public records. One of these was, by authority of the Lords of the Treasury, given at your Excellency's instance, purchased for the collection in this Office. It is an Entry Book of Letters of the Lords Justices addressed to the Lord Lieutenant of Ireland, 1712-13.

Arrangement and Preservation of Records.

40. The checking and rearrangement of the Equity Exchequer Pleadings has been continued, the Bills from 27 April, 1686, to 31 Dec., 1686; the Answers from 8 Dec., 1684 to 31 Dec., 1686.

41. In the Binding and Repairing Department 60 volumes of Records have been re-bound, three volumes of Parish Registers were repaired and remounted. Extensive repairs have become necessary to the Returns of the Census of 1841 and 1851, which have necessarily suffered much from continual handling for Old Age Pensions searches. This work of repair is being continued.

Indexing and Calendaring.

42. Work under this head has been almost entirely suspended during the year.

Printing of Calendars, Indexes and Records.

43. The second volume of the Statutes of the Parliament of Ireland, covering the reign of Henry VI., was issued during 1910. A third volume was commenced at press.

44. The Index of Names of the second volume of the Calendar of Justiciary Rolls was in the printer's hands, but the work had to be discontinued owing to pressure of current duties.

45. A continuation of the Catalogue of Accounts on the Pipe Rolls of the Exchequer, for the earlier years of the reign of Edward III., prepared by Mr. M. J. MacEnery, is included in the appendix to this Report.

Proceedings under Parochial Records Acts.

46. The Registers of Baptisms, Marriages, and Burials of five parishes became attachable under 38 & 39 Vic. c. 59 by the death or resignation of incumbents in office in 1870, and warrants were signed by the Master of the Rolls for their transfer to this office.

47. The Records of the following Parishes have been received :—

Parish.	County.	Vols.	Baptisms.	Marriages.	Burials.
Bailieborough, .	Cavan, .	2	1744-1822	1741-1821	1747-1822

Sum 2*l.* 14*s.* 11*d.*, and he owes 2*l.* 5*s.* 9*d.* which he accounts for in his account of the extent of the King's mill near Dublin Castle a.r. vij.

Issues. Account of said Thomas Smoth, of the issues of said military stores.

He gives a detailed account of the quantities received and issued, and the balances for which he is liable. The stores include wheat, salt, crossbows, and divers other military engines, appliances and materials.

Dublin Castle was the principal fortress in Ireland, and it was necessary to keep it fully supplied with up to date munitions of war and other suitable stores. The accounts illustrate in extreme detail what they consisted of. Manufactures of new articles and repairs of those in use were frequent. In this way mention is made of the material and names of most of the component parts of the standards, engines, weapons and appliances. These accounts therefore are of great importance to the student of contemporary military weapons and stores.

Thomas son of John, Earl of Kildare, accounts for four of said standards in roll a.r. ix. And John de Mauncestre, custos of said stores, is accountable for the other.

THOMOND EXPEDITION.—Account of Thomas de Dent, clerk of the King appointed to pay the wages of men at arms, hobelers, and footmen accompanying Thomas de Lucy late justiciar of Ireland to Thomond (Totomon) on the King's service (beyond the number of 20 men at arms maintained by the justiciar on his own fee) from 9 Sep. a.r. vj. to 15 November following, inclusive, viz., for 68 days.
